- 114. "Claddagh Fish Market", Late 1800s Value:$170
The Claddagh Fishing Village was unique - a group of thatched cottages built in a haphazard fashion outside the walls of Galway City. It was always a place apart, a colorful fishing village with its own king. In the early nineteenth century, the Claddagh fishing fleet numbered more than two hundred boats. Demolished in the 1930s, the spirit of the Claddagh still lives on today. This beautiful Limited Edition Giclee Print, signed and numbered by Epiphany mom and artist, Sue Bryan, (number 10 of 250) is printed on specially treated watercolor paper in archival inks and framed in a solid wood celtic-knot frame.
Donors: Sue Bryan
- 115. "Galway Bay Hooker", Early 1900s Value:$170
The Galway Bay Hooker (Irish: bád mór or húicéir) is a traditional sailing boat used in Galway Bay off the west coast of Ireland. The hooker was developed for the strong seas there. It is identified by the sail formation, which is extremely distinctive and quite beautiful. Traditionally, the boat is black (being coated in pitch) and the sails are a dark red-brown. Another beautiful Limited Edition Giclee Print, signed and numbered by Epiphany mom and artist, Sue Bryan, (number 44 of 250) is printed on specially treated watercolor paper in archival inks and framed in a solid wood celtic-knot frame.

615. Facial Chemical Peels - Series of Four

Value:$1000

Be prepared to have radiant skin that glows with a youthful sheen with glycolic acid facial peels performed by Nursery mom, Dr. Jo-Ann Latkowski. Chemical peeling is used to improve the skin's appearance by applying a glycolic acid solution to the skin, causing the top layer of the skin to separate and peel off. The new surface is smoother, less wrinkled and more even in color. Glycolic acid peels are also used to reduce fine lines, improve skin texture and discoloration, and in the treatment and prevention of acne. They are performed in a series with one peel every two weeks.

Note: Following the application of the glycolic acid peel, there may be a sunburn-like sensation. Mild redness and scaling may last for a few days, but you can return to normal activities immediately. Expires December 31, 2010.

Donors: Jo-Ann Latkowski

- 907. Eighth Grade Art Project Priceless
"Pop Art Portraits"
In an homage to artist Andy Warhol, the Eighth Grade class showcases their own Pop Art Portraits. Photographs taken by art teacher and portrait photographer, Mollie O'Mara, were digitally enhanced and abstracted by the students as they learned Photoshop techniques. These individual portraits have been collaged together to create a colorful class portrait. This work of art (30" x 40" framed) will provide lasting memories for your son or daughter as they move away from their beloved Epiphany School.
Donors: The Eighth Grade, under the artistic guidance of Ros Sterling and Mollie O'Mara
- 908. A Special Day with the FDNY Priceless
This will be a once in a lifetime experience that your son or daughter won't ever forget! Does your child stop on the street when that red, loud fire engine goes racing by? Well, here is an opportunity that should not be missed!!! A real, live, authentic fireman will arrive at the school and make a special visit to your child's classroom. The fireman will give the class a brief seminar highlighting the work of the FDNY's highly-trained professionals and what it takes to be a part of the BRAVEST in New York City. After the visit, all of the kids will know why the firemen love their job! But it's not over yet! At the end of the visit, your child and a friend or sibling (along with an adult chaperone of your choice) will get a personal tour inside the FDNY Engine 16/Ladder 7 firehouse, located on 29th Street and Second Avenue. The kids will be able to climb on the fire truck and use the siren! Can you just imagine what questions will be asked in the classroom?? Will you schedule this for your child's birthday or to celebrate another day? It's up to you (along with the FDNY's availability of course), but no matter when the special day comes, you can be certain that your child will feel like a SUPERHERO that day!
Note: Contact Tina Wray-Asaro to coordinate. Expires March 2011.

- Your child or children will love knowing that YOU are in charge of The Epiphany School for one day! Here's your chance to implement all those changes you and your child/ren are wishing for (only kidding!) as you take over for Mr. Hayes for the day. Make your mark and win this one! As an added bonus after all your hard work as Principal, you and your spouse are invited to join Mr. & Mrs. Hayes for a "debriefing" over dinner at the fabulous Smith & Wollensky Steakhouse.
- Donors: Mr. Jim Hayes
- 916. SPECIAL APPEAL - Smart Boards Priceless
- Smart Boards are a combination of a blackboard and a computer screen. These touch-sensitive screens let teachers seamlessly weave video, photography and audio recordings into their classes, so every child's day is filled with the multimedia examples that bring lessons to life.
- They cost about $5,000 each. Shortly before the auction, we had 6 new Smart Boards installed (five at 22nd Street and one at 28th Street) for a grand total of eighteen. The money raised at the auction will help pay for these updated editions. Hopefully you have seen the video featuring our own teacher, Mrs. Boss, using them in action in a Science class. The more we can raise for this cause, the more Smart Boards we can add to our classrooms, benefiting all our children.
